

Stress busters: George Cadbury and Katherine Langton show their support for the charity director Charlotte Stocking with PR man Stuart Higgins

Col Tim Collins and wife Caroline toast the worthy cause

DIARY OF THE WEEK

Co-ordinated by Sophia Beddow
Photos by Dominic O'Neill

THE STRESS IS ON GIVING

Big-hearted VIPs trooped to the Berkeley Hotel in London's Knightsbridge for a special charity ball to mark the 90th anniversary of Combat Stress, which looks after service veterans' mental health. As well as dinner and dancing, the night featured an auction of prize lots including a flight in an Apache helicopter. The event, supported by HELLO!, also introduced the team of former soldiers who will climb the Matterhorn next month in a bid to raise funds for the charity. To donate, visit matterhornchallenge2009.org.

Bugle boys: A trumpet fanfare called ballgoers to dinner

Combat Stress fundraising director Robert Marsh and wife Tabitha

Matterhorn mountain team: Charles Groves, Lars Jensen, patron Robert Lawrence, Alex Howard-Keyes and John Blamire

High fliers: Top businessmen Ravi Kailas and Angad Paul flank Apache helicopter pilot Major Chris Whipp

Society guests Sophie Lyttelton, Tara Stoop, Lord and Lady Cobham and Charles Cooper

Charlotte with Deirdre Sandberg and Marion Lawrence

Angad and wife Michelle with hero Johnson Beharry VC, whose portrait they successfully sold for in the charity auction

Army veteran and businessman Kevin Godlington with Britt Olson